givejedahand #oneBRAVEnight some #stupid #ass at #CAMHFoundation #GUSHED about your $150 donation having a #direct #IMPACT on #CAMH #patients. What WAS it?! A $10 #voucher for #BostonPizza! Now that's what I call #stigmatizing. It makes one wonder what they'd call #tokenism. I'd also call it a #fundraising #SCAM! #Onebravenight to defeat #mentalhealth #CAMHFoundation ordered #big #fundraiser Jim Treliving's #BostonPizza and they all #THREWUP! What IS it about #JUNKFOOD #magnates and #CAMH? #DIABETES!

Jim Treliving's so-called "interview" with the Toronto Star about #CAMH's #OneBraveNight (One Brave Night) #Fundraiser is embarrassing to read, because despite his best efforts he cannot avoid making himself look stupid when he attempts to compare his staying up for one night to the lived experience of so-called mental illness. For one thing, he appears to have absolutely zero insight into that to which he compares his vigil - "mental illness". He seems to think because a nephew committed suicide, and because he policed communities where "mental illness" existed, it follows that he has some insight - even affinity - for the phenomenon. It neither follows nor is it the case. He can stay up all year if he likes, but where "mental illness" is concerned, he doesn't even know that he doesn't know - the first thing about it - which is that what he calls an illness is for me a way of life. If he knew even that much about it, there would be, as Catherine Zahn is wont to say, "every reason for hope" - but he doesn't - and there isn't. I can't help thinking that all Jim Treliving is really about is peddling some rather unremarkable, indeed unmarketable pizza. #CAMH #Inept #Stigmatizing #Fundraising #Onebravenight #BostonPizza #sunriseselfie
